

The Hierarchy of the Legion of Mary

Concilium

The central council, called the Concilium, is the supreme governing authority of the Legion (located in Ireland).

Senatus

Senatus

The Senatus is the 2nd highest level overseeing all Legion of Mary activities. Each country has a Senatus.

Regia

Regia

Regia

Regia

A Regia oversees many Curiae based on geographic location. In the U.S., the Regia is typically at the state level.

Curia

Curia

Curia

Curia

Curia

Curia

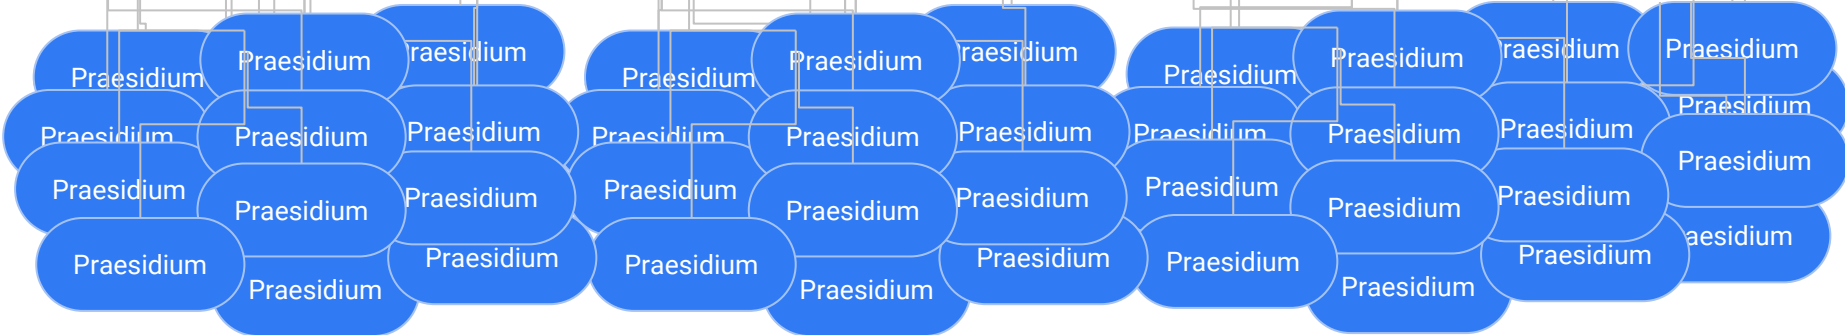

Curia

Curia

Curia

Curia

~A dozen or more Praesidia report to the next level, the Curia. A Curia may oversee another Curia and the upper Curia is then called a Comitium.

Praesidium is the lowest level of the Legion of Mary; every praesidium reports directly to one Curia, typically at the Diocesan level.